

At some point, the idea of Baret disguising herself as a man in order to accompany Commerson was conceived.

JEANNE

This collection is dedicated to the French naturalist and botanist Jeanne Baret. Jeanne Baret was a member of a ship expedition that went to the South Pacific between 1766 and 1769. The French Navy forbade the presence of women on their ships – Jeanne Baret disguised herself as a man during the voyage. Baret is considered as the first woman to sail around the world.

The years 2020/2021 are marked by Covid. In these uncomfortable times, comfort is a top priority: Stay home, stay safe! The exotic circumnavigation of the world of a Jeanne Baret mutates into a journey in the head due to the pandemic. Wide cuts are a welcome change to the lived narrowness. Geometric considerations mix with floral patterns, which in turn inspire dreaming and create exotic and surprising moments. One's own camouflage turns out to be an expression of the longing for freedom.

All printed fabrics were created in collaboration with Dominik Stauch.

Die Kollektion ist der französische Naturforscherin und Botanikerin Jeanne Baret gewidmet. Jeanne Baret war Mitglied einer Schiffsexpedition, welche zwischen 1766 und 1769 in den Südpazifik führte. Die französische Marine verbot die Anwesenheit von Frauen auf ihren Schiffen – Jeanne Baret tarnte sich während der Reise als Mann. Baret gilt als erste Frau, welche die Welt umsegelte.

Die Jahre 2020/2021 sind durch Covid geprägt. Bequemlichkeit wird in dieser unbequemen Zeit gross geschrieben: Stay home, stay safe! Die exotische Weltumseglung einer Jeanne Baret mutiert pandemiebedingt zur Reise im Kopf. Weite Schnitte bilden willkommene Abwechslungen zur gelebten Enge. Geometrische Überlegungen vermischen sich mit floralen Mustern, diese regen wiederum zum Träumen an und lassen exotische und überraschende Augenblicke entstehen. Die eigene Tarnung entpuppt sich als Ausdruck der Sehnsucht nach Freiheit.

Die bedruckten Stoffe entstanden in Zusammenarbeit mit Dominik Stauch.
